DESCRIPTION AND ASSUMPTIONS

STATE DESCRIPTION - LOUISIANA

The state of Louisiana consists of 64 parishes and has a total population of 4,440,050. With a total land area of 44,521 square miles (115,310 square kilometers), the state is relatively densely populated, at an average of 99.7 persons per square mile (36.5 per square kilometer) to the national 63.9 per square mile. According to the 1980 federal census Louisiana was the nineteenth most populous state in the country. Louisiana is a comparatively "young" state; the median age in 1980 was 27.3 years.

The state is located in the extreme south central part of the United States, bounded on the west by Texas, on the north by Arkansas, on the east and northeast by Mississippi and on the south by the Gulf of Mexico. In the large part, the climate of Louisiana is determined by the huge land mass to the north, its subtropical latitude, and the Gulf of Mexico to the south. Summertime temperatures range from 85 degrees F. to 95 degrees F. during afternoons and 65 degrees F. to 75 degrees F. in the early mornings. Average winter temperatures range from 55 degrees F. to 65 degrees F. in the afternoons to 40 degrees F. to 50 degrees F. during early morning hours, although higher and lower readings are often observed. Freezing temperatures are recorded on 30 to 40 days in North and Central Louisiana during an average year and on 10 to 35 days in the southern parishes. The annual average precipitation in Louisiana for 1980 was 57.56 inches, but there are great variations of precipitation between the different sections of the state.

The four most heavily populated parishes in the state are Orleans, Jefferson, East Baton Rouge, and Caddo. Besides being the most populous, Orleans is also the most urbanized (99.9 percent in 1980), the most densely populated (2,801.6 persons per square mile), and the second smallest in land area (199 square miles). The smallest in land area is West Baton Rouge with 194 square miles; the largest is Cameron with 1,417 square miles. Assumption parish has the largest percent ruralized population (85.7 percent of the populous live outside urban centers).

Louisiana blends a wealth of historic charm, rich natural resources, and giant modern industries. Fertile soil, adequate rainfall, temperate climate, an ample and adaptable labor force, navigable waterways and excellent highway systems are factors basic to the state's wealth.

The southern section of Louisiana has many coastal marshes, bayous and generally low and flat terrain. The central portion is characterized by flat delta land suitable for agriculture. The northern part of the state is higher, with rollings hills and valleys. This variety of land types encourages an equally wide variety of both agricultural and industrial pursuits. The proximity of the state to the Gulf of Mexico; and its strategic location at the mouth of the Mississippi River provide the necessary entrance and egress for worldwide commerce.

LOUISIANA BACKGROUND AND ASSUMPTIONS

Louisiana's unemployment rate in 1983 averaged 11.8 percent; higher than an average for 1982 (10.3 percent), and higher than the 9.6 percent unemployment recorded nationwide for 1983.

There was a loss in nonagricultural wage and salary employment of 42,900 workers. The largest decrease occurred in the manufacturing industries where the manufacture of durable goods showed 16,400 fewer workers and the manufacture of nondurable goods had 6,400 fewer workers than in 1982.

Among nonmanufacturing industries to suffer losses during the past year were: Mining (minus 15,400 workers); Construction (8,700 fewer workers); Transportation, Communication and Public Utilities (10,600); and Wholesale Trade (5,500).

In spite of the rising unemployment rate and the overall loss in nonagricultural wage and salary employment; there were some industries who gained workers since 1982. Retail Trade increased by 6,000 workers during this period. Finance, Insurance, and Real Estate increased by 2,700 over 1982. Services industries increased by 2,400 and Government increased by 9,300. Three hundred of those government employees were in federal government jobs, 300 were in state government jobs and 8,800 were hired in local government.

All of the labor market areas of the state had an unemployment rate in excess of 10.0 percent with the exceptions of Baton Rouge (9.8 percent) and Lafayette (8.1 percent).

The average weekly wage paid in manufacturing industries increased from $384.58 in 1982 to $391.60 in 1983.

SECTION II

POPULATION CHANGES

Population Changes in Louisiana - 1970 - 1980

During the decade of the 70's Louisiana has shown marked and significant population growth and changes. Tables on pages 18 and 19 present 1983 census population totals by parishes and by major labor market areas. These totals have been broken down by race and sex.

The most marked population increases during the period 1970 - 1980 are shown in parishes containing or bordering on several of the growing metropolitan areas. This is a polarizing effect, with population clustering around the areas of high labor need and activity and high wages. Of the nine parishes which form Louisiana's border with Mississippi, only four show very slight population decreases since 1970. These, with an adjoining parish, West Carroll, which also showed a slight decrease, are largely rich delta and rural areas. The population loss in Tensas Parish, the largest loss among these parishes, was 12.4 percent.

While still the state's largest and most populous city, New Orleans has shown a slight decline in population. Limitation and congestion of residential areas in the city has resulted in an overflow of residents into bordering Jefferson, St. Bernard and St. Tammany Parishes. Two causeways across Lake Ponchartrain connect New Orleans with St. Tammany Parish, and a recently completed express highway around the end of the lake makes easy access to Tangipahoa Parish. Since 1970, St. Tammany Parish has increased in population by a striking 74.4 percent, the largest gain in the state. Jefferson Parish, especially the area adjacent to New Orleans, has room to expand and has done so by 34.7 percent. St. Bernard Parish is somewhat limited in available growing area, but has a relatively high concentration of industry and has grown by 25.2 percent since 1970.

Baton Rouge is a growing city, rapidly expanding into the less populated parts of East Baton Rouge and drawing population into adjacent parishes. East Baton Rouge Parish has shown a growth in the past decade of 28.4 percent.

Ascension Parish grew by 35.0 percent, West Feliciana Parish by 7.1 percent, and Livingston Parish by 61.1, the second largest parish increase in the state. It would be reasonable to expect that East Feliciana and Iberville Parishes will continue to experience increases also.

Between Baton Rouge and New Orleans along both banks of the Mississippi River is an almost continuous complex of petrochemical and related industries drawing population to the parishes of St. Charles, St. James and St. John.

Lafayette is a growing city with much potential for growth and importance. The population of Lafayette Parish has increased by 36.7 percent in the last decade. Because of its proximity to the Gulf of Mexico and excellent highway connections to surrounding areas, Lafayette has become headquarters for many offshore drilling operations and is becoming increasingly involved in the petroleum industry and related industries.

The city of Lake Charles, in Calcasieu Parish, also has direct access to the Gulf of Mexico and is a hub of petrochemical industries. Population growth in this area has not been marked. This may be due to the situation of Lake Charles between the bustling Lafayette and the large centers of petrochemical industry across the border in southern Texas. Still, Lake Charles is a growing city which much industrial activity.

In the northwest corner of the state are Caddo and Bossier Parishes, sharing the adjoining cities of Shreveport and Bossier City. Although Shreveport is the third largest city in the state, Caddo Parish as a whole has shown a growth since 1970 of 9.6 percent, while Bossier Parish has been increasing at a healthy 21.1 percent.

Vernon Parish, centrally located on the western border of the state, has shown a slight population loss of 0.6 percent. The establishment of Fort Polk as a permanent military installation has not attracted much population, as the rest of the parish is largely rural.

Through the trend of population change in Louisiana is evident as the state has changed in many areas to a more industrial economy, this trend may be stabilizing.

CONSUMER PRICE INDEX

The Consumer Price Index, sometimes called the "Cost of Living Index" is a monthly measure of the average change in prices in a fixed quantity of goods and services. Prices are gathered from 85 areas across the country. The year 1967 is used as the base period. While the CPI may provide a broad outline of price fluctuations, it cannot reflect individual buying trends or regional experiences.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

EXPLANATORY MATERIAL

The information presented in this document was compiled by the LA Department of Labor, affilated with the U. S. Department of Labor.

An explanation of some of the terminology used in this report follows:

LABOR AREA: A labor area is a geographical area consisting of a central city or cities and the surrounding territory in which there is a concentration of economic activity and in which workers can usually change jobs without changing their residence.

CIVILIAN LABOR FORCE: The civilian labor force represents the sum of the employed (exclusive of the Armed Forces), the unemployed, and persons involved in labor-management disputes.

EMPLOYMENT: Employment estimates are developed mainly from a sample of establishments which report regularly on their employment. These estimates are periodically compared with comprehensive data on employment obtained from tax records, which provide benchmarks for the various non-agricultural industries. Appropriate adjustments are made as needed.

NONAGRICULTRUAL WAGE AND SALARY EMPLOYMENT: Nonagricultural Wage & Salary employment refers only to employees on establishment payrolls during the sample week in each month (this week always includes the 12th of the month) and excludes self-employed, unpaid family workers, and workers involved in labor-management disputes.

ALL OTHER NONAGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT: This category includes persons who work in non-farm industries who are not reported on payrolls, duch as self employed workers, domestic workers in private households, and unpaid family workers.

UNEMPLOYMENT: Unemployment data included in this report are concepturally comparable with those released by the United States Department of Labor each month for the country as a whole. The unemployment estimates include all workers not at work but actually seeking work. Unemployed workers are counted by their place of residence. The unemployment rate represents the number of unemployed as a per cent of the civilian labor force.

APPLICANTS: Applicants are individuals who are registered with the local Job Service Office and are reasonally representative of the available worker supply in most occupational categories and for most sections of the area.

PLACEMENTS: Placements occur when a local Job Service Office, which has an employer job order, refers a qualified applicant to the employer and verifies the fact that the applicant has been hired by the employer.

SECTION XI

JOB TRAINING PARTNERSHIP ACT

JOB TRAINING PARTNERSHIP ACT

The Job Training Partnership Act (Public Law 97-300-Oct 13, 1982) is replacing the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 as the nation's major employment incentive program. The purpose of this Act is to establish programs to prepare youth and unskilled adults for entry into the labor force and to afford job training to those economically disadvantaged individuals and other individuals facing serious barriers to employment, who are in special need of such training to obtain productive employment.

Under the Job Training Partnership Act, many responsibilities formerly carried out by the Federal Government devolve to States and local labor markets. The Governor has approval authority over locally-developed plans, and is responsible for monitoring local program compliance with the Act. In addition, a new public/private partnership is created to plan and design training programs as well as to deliver training and other services.

SERVICE DELIVERY AREAS, designated by the governor, based upon recommendations of the State Job Training Coordinating Council, will deliver services under the Act. Sixteen of these areas which include the entire state, have been designated in Louisiana. Planning functions of both the Governor's representatives and the service delivery areas will require considerable statistical information including the characteristics of populations in the respective areas.

In the case of labor force data, unrounded figures have been shown since allocation procedures require their use rather than the normally published rounded information.
